

BEES, BIODIVERSITY & ME
PRE-ENGAGEMENT PACK

Baboró
International Arts Festival for Children

CREATIVITY IN THE CLASSROOM

BEES, BIODIVERSITY AND ME

'Bees, Biodiversity and Me' is a pilot digital workshop facilitated by Toodlelou Creativity Lab in association with SAP.

In Association with

Facilitated by

BEES, BIODIVERSITY AND ME

MAKING A DIFFERENCE IN OUR OWN BACKYARDS

Biodiversity is a fancy word for nature.

It was formed by merging together the two words 'biological' and 'diversity'. It simply means the enormous variety of life on the planet. From the tiniest bacteria to the largest elephant.

If it is alive then it is part of our biodiversity!

We all have a role to play in looking after biodiversity, because without it we would not be able to survive on earth. And while preserving biodiversity is a big task, there are things that we can all do, right in our own backyards to make a difference.

In this hands-on online workshop, Lindsay Deely of Toodlelou Creativity Lab will take a look at one creature in particular - the humble bumblebee.

BEES, BIODIVERSITY AND ME

ABOUT THE WORKSHOP

Bees have been having a particularly difficult time of late and play a critical role in our ecosystem. In the introductory video below, Lindsay will talk about the important things that bees do for us every day, how to become a citizen scientist and the simple things we can do to attract bees to our gardens. In the online classroom workshop she will work with the students to make a home for solitary bees that will be crafted using simple items found in your home, recycling bin and in nature.

HOW TO PARTICIPATE

1. Watch the introductory Youtube Video here
2. Gather the items from the list opposite
3. Enjoy the pre-recorded interactive workshop with the rest of the class!

Things you will need:

- A tin can
- Twigs or sticks
- Clean dry paper or newspaper
- Cardboard
- Scissors
- A length of string

HOW TO CONNECT WITH BABORÓ

Become part of a community of families, schools, artists and supporters who bring Baboró to life.

Join us to hear about our festival programme, opportunities for artists and our school and social outreach.

Visit baboro.ie

Sign up to our newsletter

Join us on Facebook

Follow us on Instagram

Follow us on Twitter

Watch on YouTube